2011, The Year of Tied and Broken Records

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to all of the OCBC members and their families; may this Holiday Season find all well with each of you.

As we look at the 2011 season we find that Jonathan Demonet tied the record which Doc Phil set in 1995 for the most wins in a single season at 6. He also beat the 2000 record for the heaviest two day weight of 36.70 by .21 pounds to set the new record at 36.91 pounds.

Big fish honors for 2011 went to Jeff Grant with a 6.94 pounder caught at Pyramid in July.

In November Keith Beever won the 2011 TOC with 22.92 pounds of Havasu bass.

The club averaged 18 participants per tournament and weighed in an average of 51 bass.

Total weight for the 2011 season was 1286.13 pounds, an average of 128.61 pounds per tournament.

The lowest fish count and weight was the February tournament at El Capitan with a total of 23 fish weighed and 52.00 pounds total weight.

The most productive tournament was held at Lake Havasu in March weighing in a whopping 98 bass for 245.46 pounds.

We are going to miss John and Janet Moch who have bought their own lake in Oregon. Good luck to both of you.

May the fish gods smile upon the OCBC members in the 2012 tournament season.

Getting Ready for 2012

At the December meeting we need to pay our club dues.

It's $40.00 for the annual dues and $45.00 for the January tournament which will be held at Lake Piru on January 7, 2011 unless you don't want to get into the big fish pot, then it's just $40.00 for the tournament. There is also a proposal that we create a new pot for the biggest fish of the year. This will be a one time fee and we will determine if we want to make this pot and what the fee will be at the December meeting.

Boaters, you need to bring proof of insurance for your boat and give it to John Demonet at the December meeting if possible.
